

Economic Thought

Volume 3, Issue 1, 2014

Table of Contents

Should the History of Economic Thought be Included in Undergraduate Curricula?	1
Alessandro Roncaglia
A commentary on Alessandro Roncaglia's paper: 'Should the History of Economic Thought be Included in Undergraduate Curricula?'	13
Nicholas J. Theocarakis
From Rational Choice to Reflexivity: Learning from Sen, Keynes, Hayek, Soros, and most of all, from Darwin	28
Alex Rosenberg
Adam Smith's Natural Prices, the Gravitation Metaphor, and the Purposes of Nature	55
David Andrews
Economics as a Science, Economics as a Vocation: A Weberian Examination of Robert Heilbroner's Philosophy of Economics	73
Daniyal Khan	